Ok, application of your choice is complete, and if you have no criminal record in the U.S. or Canada, THAT'S IT!! You're Done!

Next page is a handy website to help you find a Passport Office near YOU!

How To Get your passport processed and pay the fee

The website listed below will allow you to find the nearest location to apply for a passport. It is provided by the Department of State's Bureau of Consular Affairs, Office of Passport Services/Customer Service, which designates many post offices, clerks of court, public libraries and other state, county, township, and municipal government offices to accept passport applications on its behalf.

The U.S. Passport Acceptance Facility Search Page is located online at:

<http://iafdb.travel.state.gov/>

Once you open the website, type in your zip code in the box, click search and a list of places that accept U.S passport applications will pop up.

If you're not sure what to do, call your nearest post office for assistance. Most post offices should be able to point you in the right direction.
